Iggy Pop

Zitadelle Spandau, Berlin | 80'

With a career spanning more than 50 years and just as many international hits that have rocked over five generations, Iggy Pop is one of the greatest icons of global rock, the most punk figure in today's music, a true legend! A beast on stage, filmed at the Spandau Citadel in Berlin on June 19, 2025.

© La Blogothèque - ARTE Concert

A photograph of Jean-Michel Jarre performing on stage. He is wearing a light-colored jacket and glasses, leaning over a synthesizer. The stage is illuminated with vibrant, colorful lights in shades of blue, purple, and green, creating a dramatic atmosphere. The background features large, angled panels that reflect the stage lights.

Jean-Michel Jarre

Plaza de España, Seville | 90'

Jean-Michel Jarre unveils an immersive concert-show in the heart of Seville's sumptuous Plaza de España, transformed into an exceptional stage setting for one night.

Caribou

Zénith, Paris | 84'

Overnight, the Zénith de Paris has been transformed into an anthill. Audiences swarmed the hall's basements, corridors and bleachers, forming the perfect playground for the master of the woods: Caribou. Electric communion, generosity, live intensity... Legend has it that a Caribou concert is more effective than a karmic cleansing or a trip to the confessional.

© The Shift - ARTE Concert

Metronomy

Le Muséum national d'histoire naturelle, Paris | 45'

Metronomy present their new album, Small World, as well as some of their best-known songs, at the French National Museum of Natural History's Gallery of Paleontology and Comparative Anatomy in Paris.

Cigarettes After Sex

Magasins Généraux, Paris | 63'

In a special private concert in Paris, Greg Gonzales and his band perform from their newly released second album, Cry. This work immerses us in a nocturnal and sensual universe, eminently cinematic.

© The Shift - ARTE Concert

A conductor in a dark suit stands with his back to the camera, arms raised, leading an orchestra. The musicians are seated in front of him, playing various instruments including violins, violas, cellos, and a flute. The stage is dimly lit, with spotlights on the conductor and the musicians. The background is dark, and the overall atmosphere is professional and focused.

Boulez 100th Anniversary

Philharmonie, Paris | 90'

To celebrate Boulez's 100th birthday, Ensemble Intercontemporain and Les Métaboles, conducted by Pierre Bleuse, revisit Cummings ist der Dichter and Sur Incises, two masterpieces emblematic of his sources of inspiration and compositional process.

Mozart's Requiem

Château de Versailles | 80'

Conducted by Théotime Langlois de Swarte. An unfinished masterpiece, a musical testament, a timeless sacred creation that transcends the liturgical sphere, Mozart's Requiem is the epitome of superlatives. Since it was composed, this work has given rise to a thousand hypotheses, numerous versions of the unfinished pages and, above all, splendid interpretations: it magnetizes the listener as well as the performer, and finally imposes itself almost entirely in the way Mozart left it.

Mozart/Jadin Pianoforte Concerto

Château de Versailles | 75'

Though Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756–1791) died at 35, Versailles-born Hyacinthe Jadin (1776–1800) passed away at just 24 from tuberculosis. A piano virtuoso, he left behind sonatas and three concertos: fleeting yet brilliant glimpses of his budding genius and the dawn of pre-Romanticism. Acclaimed French keyboardist Justin Taylor unites these composers, revealing the enduring radiance of their youthful inspiration. This freshness is still as dazzling as ever.
